

BODY OF MRS. JONES RECOVERED LAST WEDNESDAY

The body of Mrs. Charles Jones, the second and last of the unfortunate women that lost their lives at Hobart Creek last winter, was found Wednesday morning by employees of the Virginia & Gold Hill Water company who were searching for the remains. The body was found about five or six hundred yards below the point where the Ed house stood, and was on the opposite side of the creek as compared with the point where the body of Mrs. Campbell was found last month.

The condition of the body of Mrs. Jones was excellent, considering the long time that has elapsed since the accident occurred several months ago, it having remained buried under the snow and ice since that time. Undertaker Kitzmeyer of Carson was notified of the recovery of the remains and left for Hobart Creek, and arrangements were made to carry the body to Carson. Coroner Lee Davis of Reno was also notified, and he left at once to view the body and make arrangements for the inquest.

Mrs. Jones formerly lived in Yerington and it is probable that the body will be taken to that town for burial, although the funeral arrangements have not been announced. The finding of the remains of Mrs. Jones will be a source of great relief to the bereaved husband and other relatives who have been under a severe tension for weeks past, and is a source of satisfaction to Virginia & Gold Hill Water company officials who have been untiring in aiding the search for the bodies of the two unfortunate women ever since the night of the accident.

SIX MONTHS TO VISIT EVERY CAPITAL

Thomas Wheeler arrived in this city Tuesday evening on his trip to every capital in the Union to win a wager. On March 25th he left Council Bluffs, says the Carson News, to beat his way on a visit to every capital in the country and must do it within six months. He is a member of the Eagle lodge and was started on the trip owing to an argument that took place between two Eagles.

One claimed that the swiftest men in the country were Eagles and as a result a wager of a thousand dollars was made that a young Eagle of the Council Bluffs lodge could make the trip mentioned.

The young man is well on his way and is ahead of his schedule. By breaking the time limit he wins a hundred dollars and is trying to make the trip as rapidly as possible. He is selling postal cards of himself and working only when he has to. He is being aided by every Eagle lodge that he visits and his pictures are being plentifully purchased.

CARSON MAN SHOWS THE FARMERS HOW TO FARM

"It was Burt, the drayman from Carson City," writes S. Glen Andrus in Sunset Magazine for May, "who with a working capital of $1000, gave the ranch kings of Northern California and the capitalists of the east the economic lesson of their lives. With his $1000 savings Burt made his first payment on his little farm, built his house and barn with his own hands, and began to farm it as farming should be done. With only seven acres of land for cultivation, Burt sowed three acres of alfalfa, and around the home he planted a small orchard; between the trees he planted berries and vegetables; under every tree he placed a beehive, so that the bees might pollinize his trees while storing for him their golden honey. He kept on planting and sowing things until every foot of land was made to do double and treble service. Still he had land left sufficient to devote to a chicken yard, a pig sty and a cow pen. In the year 1910 Burt took from his seven acres a total of $2063, and with his aggregate savings he purchased forty acres more of river bottom land.

The story of Mr. Burt's little ranch appeared in the Cultivator last October, when it was described as the winner of the Sacramento Valley Irrigation company's prize for the best cared for and most typical productive ranch in the holdings of that great corporation.

LABOR TROUBLES MAY BE SETTLED

REPORT THAT MINERS HAVE AGREED TO NEW CHANGE ROOM RULE.

A report reached Winnemucca on Tuesday that the National miners' union, by a vote of 26 to 24, had agreed that its members should comply with the new change-room rule of the National Mines company. The new rule was put in force when the present management took charge of the property on the first of last month. Under the new regulation all miners working for the company were required to strip to the skin and change clothing both in going on and off shift. On the question of complying with the new rule there was a decided difference of opinion among the miners, there being a strong faction of the miners' union members which was opposed to the company's new rule and advocated its rejection by the union. This is the question which, it is understood, was submitted to a vote of the union members and they have decided to obey the rule. When the new rule was made the company agreed to pay a bonus of 50 cents per day to each miner who would comply with it.

There have been rumors that serious trouble was looked for at National as the outcome of the company's new change-room regulation, but if the report of the union's action is correct, it is probable that wiser counsels have prevailed and an amicable adjustment of the differences has been reached.

BRITISH VETO BILL HAS NOW ADVANCED SOME

PASSES COMMITTEE STAGE IN HOUSE OF COMMONS WITHOUT AMENDMENT.

LONDON, May 5.—The parliamentary bill, known also as the veto bill for the curtailment of the powers of the lords, yesterday passed the committee stage in the commons practically without amendment.

The refusal of A. J. Balfour, the leader of the opposition, to vote against the preamble removed any danger that might have been apprehended from the revolt of the laborites against it, and this portion of the measure proved easiest to carry.

The unionist opposition almost vanished. In place of hundreds of amendments, only a few important ones will be moved in the report stage of the bill which is expected to occupy only two or three days next week.

An amendment that the preamble be eliminated, moved George Nicholl Barnes, the labor leader, who described that portion of the bill as inconsistent with all the pledges and tenets of the labor party, was defeated.

After the application of cloture and the rejection of another amendment without division, Mr. Balfour said he regarded the preamble as "indefinite and illusory," but wished to see the government carry it out. He disliked some of it, but liked another part of it and therefore would not vote against it.

Arthur J. Balfour, leader of the opposition, said the preamble would lead to the constitution of a representative second chamber. If the two chambers drew their authority from the electors, they would claim and possess equal authority and he did not wish co-equal bodies.

The second chamber, he said, should be empowered, in case of controversy between the two houses, to refer the question to the elector.

On motion that the bill as amended be reported, division was challenged and the motion carried by a vote of 265 to 147. The house then adjourned.

NO MORE BOOZE AT NATIONAL

MAY STOP LIQUOR SELLING AS THE DISTRICT IS ON THE NATIONAL RESERVE.

National, the premier mining camp of Humboldt county, is destined to become a "dry" camp within the next few days, according to the statement of a local mining man, who returned from that district yesterday.

In accordance with an act recently promulgated at Washington National is now situated in the national forest reserve, and as it is unlawful to sell liquors upon a national grant, the saloons will have to move.

It is understood that official word is on the way from Washington to instruct the liquor dealers as to the interpretation of the law.
